

BIG DAVE'S FISHING ADVENTURES · WAIVER & SIGNATURE SYSTEM

Waivers, signed before anyone gets to the water

You send one link. Guests sign on their own phones. Every name, number and emergency contact is in your inbox the next morning – and the signatures stay behind your login.

How it runs

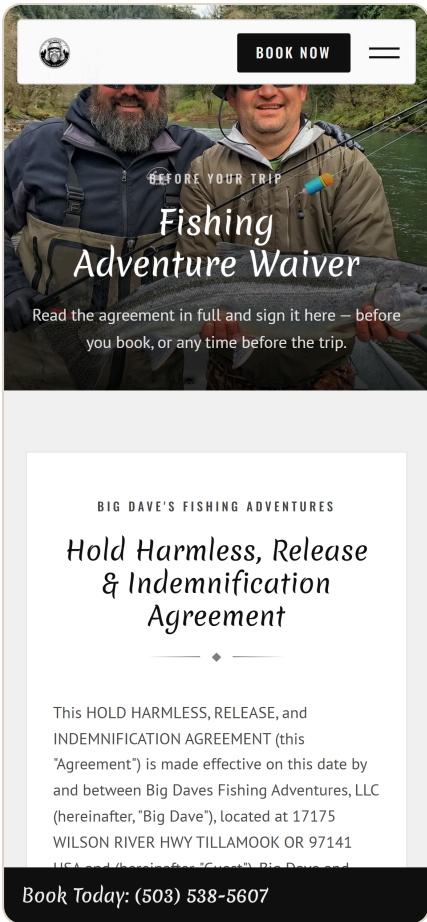

01 · WORKFLOW

Top to bottom. The only boxes in the dark lane are yours – set the trip up, send the link. Everything else happens without anyone touching it.

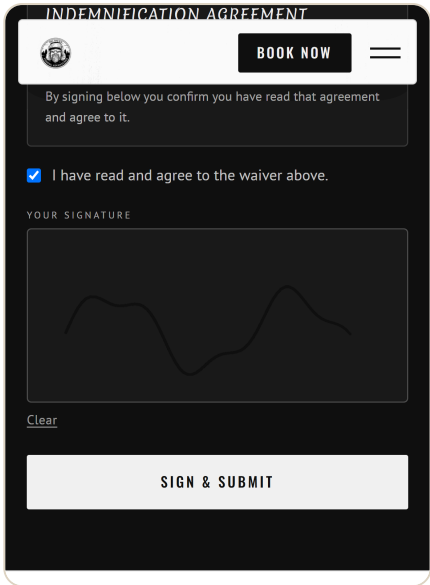

■ You ■ Your guests □ Happens by itself

Start to finish, on a real phone — about two minutes. Not a mock-up.

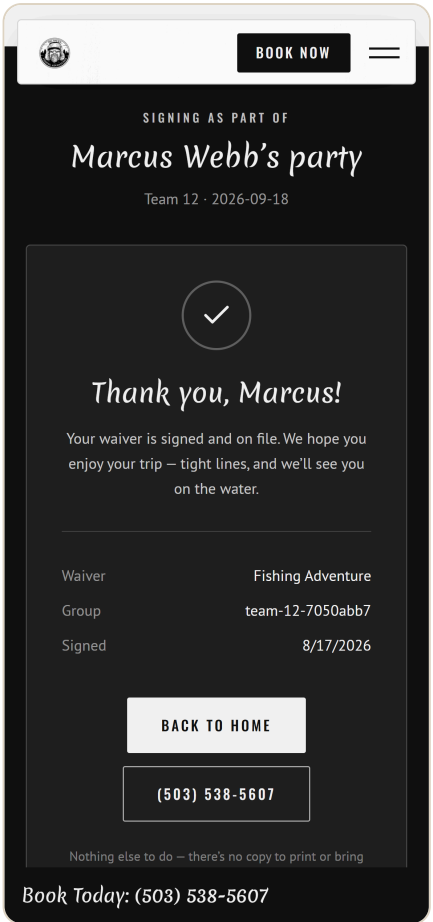

1 · THEY OPEN THE LINK

The full agreement is on the page — all ten terms, under Oregon law.

2 · FILL IN AND SIGN

Details, emergency contact, then a signature drawn with a finger.

3 · DONE ON THE SPOT

They see it landed and which trip it filed against. No copy to print.

TYPED, NOT SCRAWLED

Phones are digits only, names letters only, and it refuses anything incomplete. No guessing at handwriting later.

THE CODE RIDES ON THE LINK

Guests never type a code or pick a trip. Nothing for them to get wrong, so nothing lands against the wrong party.

NOBODY SIGNS TWICE

The same phone number can't submit the same waiver again, so the roster never carries a duplicate.

View signatures in the dashboard

Signature images are not included in this email — they stay in the dashboard, behind your login. This email is a copy, not the file: every waiver remains in the dashboard, so deleting this loses nothing.

THE 6AM EMAIL

Everyone who has signed since the last one, grouped by trip, with a spreadsheet attached. Already in your phone, so it opens at the ramp with no signal.

NO SIGNATURES IN THE EMAIL

Deliberately. They stay in the dashboard behind your login — that's the part that is legally your record.

THE INBOX IS A COPY, NOT THE FILE

Deleting one of these loses nothing. Every waiver stays on file.

A LATE ROSTER, NEVER A LOST ONE

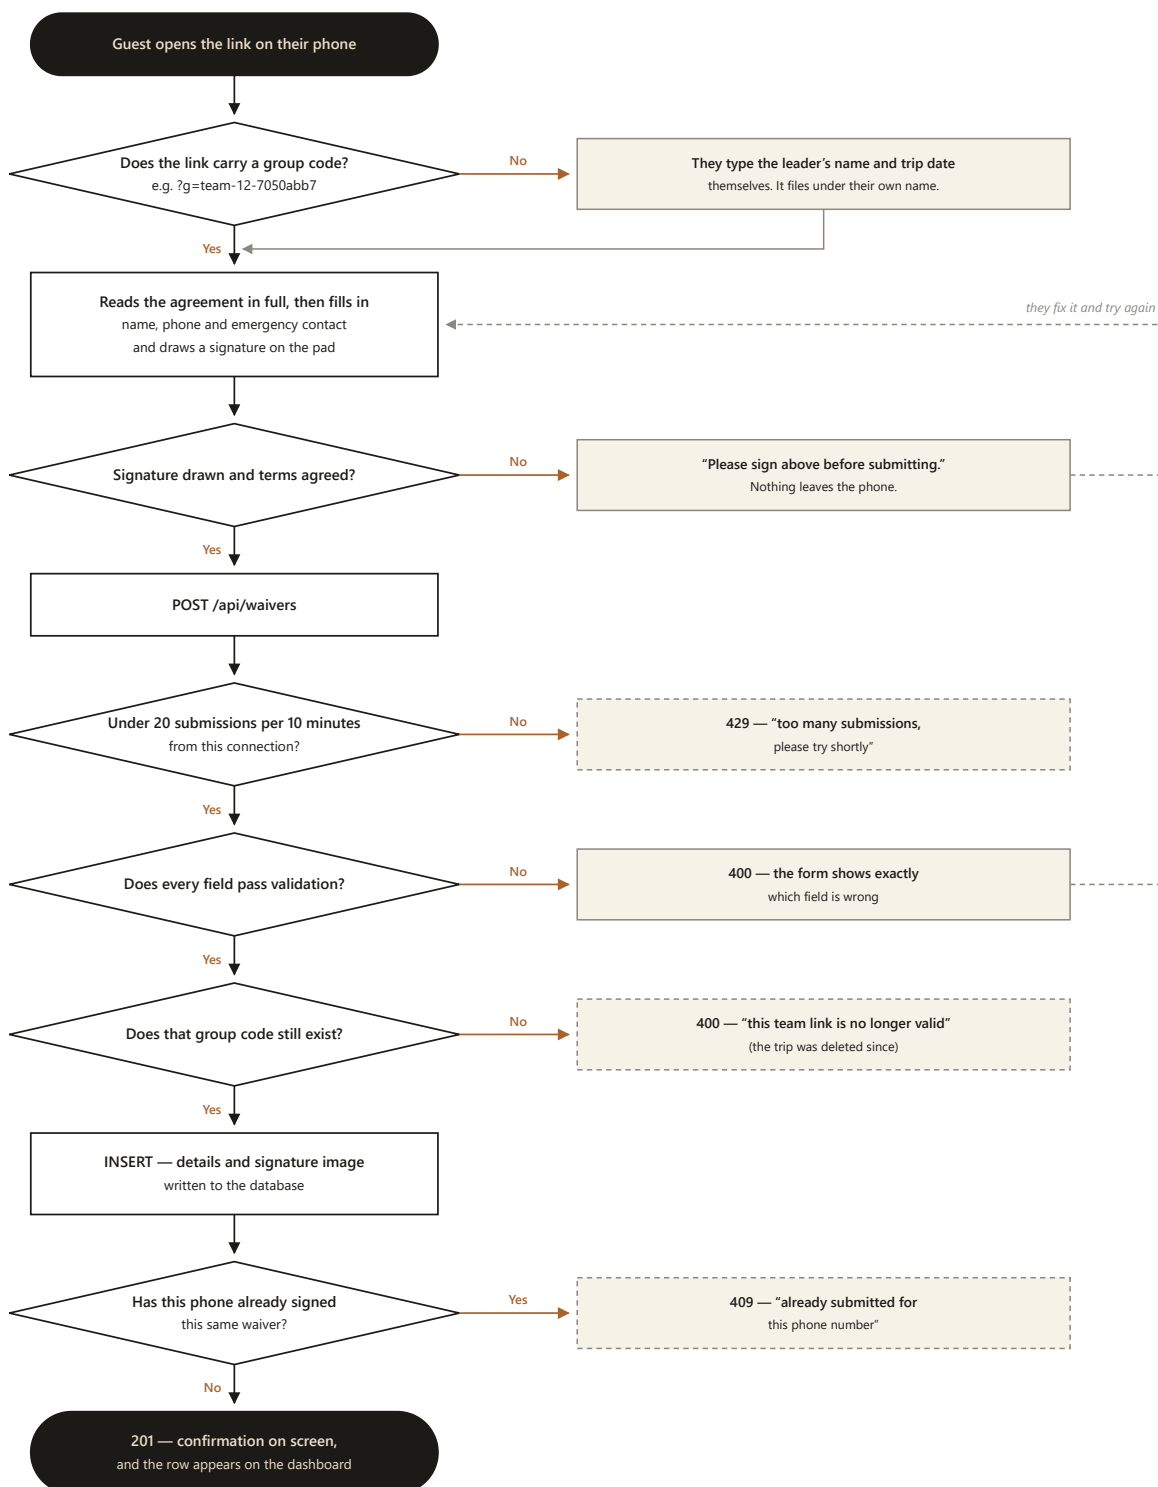

Nothing is marked as sent until the provider confirms, so a failed morning is picked up by the next one.

Flowchart – signing a waiver

04 · TECHNICAL

Every path a submission can take, including the ones that fail – in the order the checks actually run.

Start / end Process Decision Stops here Carries on

"It's one link – that's your whole job."

Everything after that runs without you.

"They do the typing, at home, before they turn up."

No clipboard at the ramp, no chasing people in the car park.

"The emergency number is already in your pocket."

In your inbox, so it opens with no signal.
